

John Adler, PhD.

Dr. Adler is a licensed clinical psychologist with more than 30 years of experience. Originally practicing in New York State and Connecticut, he has been licensed and practicing Georgia for over 15 years. Dr. Adler evaluates and treats adults for depression, anxiety, ADHD, chronic pain, and other psychological disorders. He also performs pre-surgical evaluations. He performs evaluations on children and adolescents for ADHD, learning disabilities, autistic spectrum disorder, and other behavioral problems.

He is on staff at Memorial University Medical Center and certified in drug and alcohol treatment. He currently is license Georgia and South Carolina. His higher education was completed at Duke University, NYU, CCNY, and New York University medical center.